

In 1995 we were fortunate enough to build our home. Michael Pomarico was the first and only builder that we contacted. He was highly recommended and had a great reputation in our area. Our overall experience with him was nothing but the best. (Trust us we heard from most people that building a home can be a nightmare.) Michael was always available for our questions and concerns. He was very professional, courteous and went above and beyond to make our building experience very positive. The quality of our home is top notch. If you are ready to build your home look no further as Michael is excellent to work with and he builds a beautiful home.
