

Dear Mike,

Every time we walk into our home, Zoe and I want to thank you again for a job so well done. We are having a large gathering at home for Passover, and cannot wait for the oohs and aahs that burst forth spontaneously from our guests when they see this beautiful home.

We were fortunate to purchase the dream house that your Dad, of blessed memory, built for your mom and himself. And our good fortune continued when Michael Pomarico agreed to undertake the remodeling we wanted to do.

Every worker you employed was top notch: efficient, honest, skilled, and willing to talk with us about any questions or concerns we had. Each was an artist in his field. But the real artist, Mike, was you. Your ability to visualize and explain creative ideas – down to the smallest detail – is uncanny. And each time the nuance you added made the difference between a good job and a source of endless joy.

The process – even with workers coming and going, and plastic sheeting to guard against dust – was easier and more pleasant than we could have imagined. You delivered more than promised.

And the icing on the cake was when your mom and dad visited after the work was done and took such pride and joy in the changes you and we had made to the home where they shared so many good years.

Thanks, Mike.
